How do I book my Holiday?

Destination Special

“ Situated over 7000 feet above sea level, the breathtakingly beautiful hill station of Mashobra is part of the Shimla district of Himachal Pradesh. This quaint town dates back to the 18th century and was built in the British era by Lord Dalhousie. Mashobra is linked to the city of Shimla by the historic and age old Hindustan Tibetan highway rechristened NH 22.

Of special mention is that Mashobra is located on one of Asia’s largest watershed, with the Indus and Ganges on either side. The natural vegetation comprises pine, oak, cedar, rhododendron as well as maple and chestnut. The wildlife in this area include monkeys, baboons, jackals, barking deer and the occasional leopard as well as numerous bird species, the Himalayan eagle, pheasants, chikor and partridges, to name a few. ”

What are the places of interest?

Naldehra

About 9 kms away from Mashobra is Naldehra, a former camping ground during the British colonial rule, now home to a spectacular nine hole golf course.

Forest Sanctuary

Since Mashobra is part of the Shimla Reserve Forest Sanctuary, trekking here is a delightful experience, surrounded by a variety of flora and fauna and all the forest creatures, including the shy musk deer, the state animal of Himachal. You could also trek your way to the many peaks to catch some breathtaking views.

Shimla

While at Shimla, the erstwhile capital of the British Raj, apart from the sheer beauty presented by its mountains, valleys and forest, some of the other attractions include The Ridge, Christ Church, Jakhu Temple, Summer Hill, Himachal State Museum and the Library.

Fagu

Fagu, situated in the middle of apple orchards and forests is a great place to relax with a luncheon picnic basket.

Which are the famous festival celebrated?

The Sipi Fair is a colorful festival that begins in the month of May. The fair day is also a public holiday.

The Summer Festival also generally takes place in May, when summer begins to unfold. It is a festival of colours, and the natural ambience of the district makes this fair even more enjoyable.

You can join other skating enthusiasts to celebrate the Ice-Skating Carnival in Shimla.
